3 What happened to that real estate fiasco with Evergrande that was supposed to ripple through the whole world? More fake news? Or was it really as big a problem as we heard it was, but China was able to solve it??

China's Real Estate Crisis 'Has Not Touched Bottom'

The forced liquidation of China Evergrande epitomizes the sector's struggles: Nationwide, sales are down and millions of homes have been paid for but not delivered.

8. Jews in China for 1000 years? Was this beachhead integral for future Western/communist infiltration?

Jews had in fact arrived in India via the Silk Road almost 1000 years ago, well before Marco Polo made his way to the Court of the Grand Cam (Khan) in distant Cathay (China) in the late 13th century. Waves of Jews were to follow them in subsequent centuries until China finally acquired its own thoroughly assimilated Jews, the Kaifeng Jews, indistinguishable from the Chinese.

During the Ming Dynasty (1368–1644), a Ming emperor conferred seven surnames upon the Jews, by which they are identifiable today: Ai (艾), Shi (石), Gao (高), Jin (金), Li (李), Zhang (張), and Zhao (趙); sinofications of the original seven Jewish clans' family names: Ezra, Shimon, Cohen, Gilbert, Levy, Joshua, and Jonathan, respectively. Interestingly, two of these, Jin and Shi, are the equivalent of common Jewish names in the west: Gold and Stone.

There were even high-profile Jews in the Chinese Communist Party, including the American Jew Sidney Rittenberg and the journalist Israel Epstein.

China's Jewish advisors from Mao to present. Were they as deeply integrated into each stage of Chinese history as they were in America's WWI and WWII wars?

A Jew in Mao's China

“The Revolutionary” tells the story of Southern-born Sidney Rittenberg, the only American that has ever been admitted to the Chinese Communist Party. The Mandarin-speaking Rittenberg, who was initially sent to China by the U.S. Army at the time of Japan’s surrender at the end of World War II, became an influential advisor to Mao Zedong and to the first premier of the People’s Republic of China, Zhou Enlai. His pivotal role at the Broadcast Authority, explaining the Communist Chinese point of view to America, earned him a higher salary than Chairman Mao.

Chinese academic Sun Peisong notes that renowned financier George Soros has always been critical of China's social system. While "the man who broke the Bank of England" has a keen eye for finance, Sun feels that Soros's criticism of China's "closed society" sheds light on his penchant for globalisation and dated means of making the wealthy wealthier.
